NUMBER 20

Good Attendance to Hear Hon. Solon Low

An audience of about 100 people gathered in the 2nd Ward Recreation Hall Wednesday evening to listen to Hon. Solon E. Low, Provincial Treasurer and Minister of Education in a non-partisan talk on "Democracy vs. Bureaucracy." Alvin Jones, president of the local Social Credit Group, was in the chair and the meeting opened by singing "O Canada."

Mr. Low expressed his pleasure at being in the south again and able to meet his friends whom he had made during his years of residence here. He launched immediately into his subject and said that he hoped to aid in raising the educational level of the people that they may find their way through the unsettled conditions that surround us today, and that as a free people we would be well enough informed that we would not be led astray by any "isms" or programs that would take away our liberty.

He briefly sketched the drama of the war to date and showed the magnificent part that Britishers had played in it when they were aroused and their liberty was threatened, but he said, the war has brought with it a bureau of control for nearly everything we do, eat and wear, and there was a class in Canada, whose numbers were steadily growing, whose program was to definitely extend this bureaucratic control into our government even far beyond the war, and in effect rob us of our freedom. It was this trend that he was apprehensive of, and it was to meet this challenge that he was anxious to see the people of the Province informed so that they would not be fooled by a program of this sort which paraded under a different name, but whose purpose was the same.

Men love liberty more than they love life. Especially is this true of the Anglo-Saxon races. This has been demonstrated repeatedly. But, there is the danger that over-confidence in some men, and a spirit of laxity on the part of the common people, may result in their being manacled by these controls to the extent that it would require another war to loose them. It is this thing against which we want to guard. There is a group in Canada very jealous of the power they now wield over the lives of free people and very

HOLMES CAR A WRECK

Godfrey Holmes had a very disastrous accident, considering the times, when his car dove over a 25 foot bank into a dry water course near Belly River last Friday and was practically a complete wreck as a result of the fall.

Accompanied by his two boys and Will Stone, they had left early Friday morning on a fishing trip, and were fishing some on the Belly River before proceeding on to the Park. They had driven along the banks above the river and stopped several times, and had left the car again at the top of the bank while they went down to the river to fish. Whatever started the car to move is and will continue to be a mystery, but it started to roll and came down quite a long slope and then went over the vertical bank. From appearances it landed first on its nose, driving the engine and engine cover back through the boat and the windshield and then tipped over striking the top and bending it down to within a few inches of the seats. The only glass not knocked completely out of the car was the windshield and it was shattered in every direction. Luckily no one was in the car.

The car was pulled into Cardston and towed from there home and Godfrey is debating now whether or not to endeavor to fix it up or whether to just do without a car for the duration.

anxious to continue this power. 22,000 civil servants have been added to the office forces in Ottawa to administer the rationing and coupon system. This control is a very decided advantage to a certain group, aside from the good they are doing, and if the people of our nation could be induced to vote for a continuance of this virtual dictatorship in these matters, this particular group would have great cause for rejoicing. We must not permit this.

We must retain our liberty, our freedom of choice and our democracy, and in order to do this we must be informed. A program of adult education was to be introduced which would meet this need and he hoped it would be supported. A hearty vote of thanks was given the speaker for his interesting and informative talk.

NEWS NOTES

Mr. and Mrs. Howard Oliver of Cardston were Sunday visitors in Raymond with relatives and friends.

Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Jones, of Staveland, parents of Warren Jones our Town Clerk, spent the week-end here with their son and daughter-in-law.

Miss Lula Nielson of Fairfield, Utah, formerly of Cardston was a special visitor on Tuesday of this week, visiting her niece Mrs. Ralph Melchior and husband.

Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Baschcom left Tuesday to return to their home in East End, Sask. Raymond is still very weak, and has been in Calgary taking treatments. All of his friends in Raymond are hoping for his speedy and complete recovery.

Large Crowds at Conference Meetings

Quarterly Conference of the Taylor Stake of Zion convened Sunday in the Stake House, with the large building filled for each of the three sessions. Saturday evening a Stake Missionary meeting was held where reports were given by the District Presidents and the Mission Presidents, suggestions were discussed regarding the more effective carrying on of this work and Elder Lyman of the Council of the Twelve spoke for about an hour to the group encouraging them to greater diligence in the work because of the great amount of work there was to be done and the few there were to do it.

Stake Pres. T. Geo. Wood was the first speaker Sunday morning reporting conditions throughout the Stake and commending the members for their efforts and their good works. Elder S. B. Smith who had recently returned from a short term mission, and Elder Ross Mendenhall who had just returned from a two years mission in the Eastern Canadian Mission, and Elder Lloyd Ras musen also of the Eastern Canadian Mission reported their labors and bore their testimonies to the truthfulness of the Gospel.

After coaching the congregation in the singing of "The Spirit of God Like a Fire is Burning," Elder Richard R. Lyman, representing the General Authorities at this Conference spoke of some of his experiences in his visits to the different parts of the Church and some experiences of the Elders and Saints in Germany just at the outbreak of the war. He referred to the splendid record of the Stake in Standard Quorum awards for the Aaronic Priesthood Quorums, and commended the men in charge of this work and said that good active boys usually were good, active and dependable men in the Church. He urged the paying of monthly tithing and said that to be on good terms with the Lord by obeying the law of tithing was the best investment that a person could possibly make. He told of personal experiences in this matter and the advice of his father who urged him to pay his tithing as he received it, or else some time he would come to the end of the year with no tithing paid and nothing to pay it with.

Ken Stone led the congregational singing for this session of the Conference.

The first thirty minutes of the afternoon session was given over to the Stake Relief Society and Mesdames Myrtle Passey, Jehzell Harker, Margaret Hindley and Ireta Matkin spoke of the various phases of Relief Society work and the great need each was filling in the lives of members of the organization, especially the young mothers who were raising young children.

Elders Howard Hamling and Clell Hogenen the former of Tyrrell's Lake and the latter of Stirling reported briefly on their missionary labors in Eastern Canada, and Bishop Norton of Rosemary spoke of the opportunities there were for young men to obtain farms in the Eastern Irrigation District where he lived and invited any interested parties to discuss the matter with him. The General Church and Stake authorities were presented by Stake Clerk

Bliss Roberts and were sustained by vote of the people assembled.

All of the men in the armed forces with their mothers or wives, were called to the front and the congregation under Elder Lyman's direction sang "O Canada" as a tribute to these and the others who had enlisted in the defence of freedom and liberty. The speaker then spoke of the great struggle that was in progress for the freedom of the world and said that regardless of the sacrifice, suffering and hardship that the war inflicted we would and must win. He then read the honor roll of missionaries of this Stake he had met in the various fields, and as the names were read the missionaries and their wives and parents were asked to stand. This was a very interesting feature of the afternoon meeting. Then all who had been on missions for the Church were asked to stand and about half of the group stood up. He referred to world conditions, and the misery and suffering that was being endured because of the unrighteousness and ambition of a few men. He urged all to pray for the hastening of the day when peace would be restored to the earth, and that it might be done with the least possible amount of suffering, sweat, blood and sacrifice on the part of God's children. He again referred to Stake Missionary work and the possibilities it held, and urged all to be more forgiving in spirit and to remember that strength and Godliness were earned by overcoming the spirit of selfishness, hate and envy of other people. He forgiving of all and you will enjoy new and greater happiness.

The Stake Choir was present under the direction of W. C. Stone at this session, and also at the evening session and rendered a fine program of musical numbers. A violin solo by Nyal Fletcher of Magrath added to the music of the afternoon meeting.

The large hall was crowded for the evening service, the young people gathering by the hundreds to hear Elder Lyman, and participate in the Mutual program. Elder Ross Mendenhall introduced the new theme for the coming year and spoke briefly on it, and then the time was turned over to Elder Lyman for his talk to the young people at the first meeting of the Conference when he really had time to develop a theme. He spoke on the subject of Courtship, and by stories of people who he had known and of whom he had heard, he gave a beautiful and impressive talk on the beauties of courtship and marriage, when respected and revered as these things should be, instead of being considered in the light that many consider them. His advice to the young people to refrain from anything that savored of improper familiarity, and to honor and respect each other not only in courtship but also thru out their married life if they would enjoy the greatest happiness made a deep impression on his audience.

Emerson Tollestrup of the R.C.A.F. is spending a few days leave with his parents and other relatives here.

TOWN PLANNING COMMISSION ORGANIZED

Following a lengthy period of discussion, correspondence and preliminary work, Raymond's Town Planning Commission was organized at a special meeting held last Monday night. The responsibility of the Commission is to assist the Council and citizens of the Town in organizing and carrying out a program of civic improvement and betterment that will have definite aims over a period of years, so that every piece of work done will co-ordinate with the general plan of betterment.

The commission grew out of a suggestion from the Community Service Committee of the Rotary Club and the following were selected to act on the Commission: P. W. Cope and E. H. Nilsson representing the Town of Raymond; O. H. Snow and J. O. Hicken for the Board of Trade; F. R. Taylor from the Rotary Club and Jack Kenney for the Lions Club. At the organization meeting F. R. Taylor was named Chairman and J. O. Hicken, Secretary. A motion was passed that a plan of long range improvement be adopted and this was carried. Another meeting will be reported next week.

J. W. Evans, O. H. Snow and several other Raymond people were in Stirling Monday to the funeral services of Mrs. Ogden, who died suddenly in Rosemary last week.

FARMERS WILL GET CONCESSIONS

There is a very welcome bit of news for farmers, in a recent announcement about lumber prices from the Wartime Prices and Trade Board.

Recently there has been a general increase in the prices for all lumber, to meet increased production costs. But farmers who have to make certain essential repairs to their farm buildings, or who must erect new buildings to take care of their expanding herds of livestock, or to keep pace with their other farming operations in order that more food might be produced, will be able to get lumber necessary at less than the increased prices. And here is how they will do it. Their lumber dealer will bill them for the lumber necessary at the new prices, but will deduct ten per cent, from the bill, collecting the balance from the farmer. The ten per cent. will be repaid to the dealer by the government in the form of a subsidy.

This arrangement applies only to rough and dressed soft wood, and to laths, shingles, and posts. It does not apply to hardwood or to lumber for sash doors, or general millwork. Neither does it apply to lumber to build houses, or to make additions to houses, but only to essential repairs and to buildings essential to carrying on the farm operations.

The arrangement applies to fruit and vegetable growers and to fishermen as well as to ordinary farmers. It applies only on sales of lumber over $10, but on sales of less than $200 no prior permission is needed to supply the lumber. On sales over $200 dealers must obtain permission of the timber controller before making sale.—Lethbridge Herald.

Mrs. Matilda Audenart, who passed away last Wednesday, was buried in the local cemetery Saturday afternoon following services in the 1st Ward Church, directed by Bishop J. O. Hicken. The choir was under the direction of Ira McBride with Roi Stone at the organ. A large gathering of neighbors and friends were present to show their respect to the family, and there was a lovely array of floral tributes on the casket and the rostrum.

The opening song was "Thou Deep'n'g Trials" with invocation by Elder C. E. Allred after which the choir sang "Resting Now from Care and Sorrow."

Speakers were Elders T. T. Mendenhall, C. R. Wing, John F. Salmon and Bishop Hicken, all of whom spoke of the fine character of deceased, who in the midst of trouble and discomfort, had maintained a sunny disposition and a happy smile. They spoke of the resurrection and life beyond the grave and held out to the family the hope of a happy reunion when life's race was finished.

Special musical numbers were a vocal solo "Genevieve" by Mrs. T. T. Mendenhall and a Male quartette "Still, Still, with Thee" by Frank R. Taylor and Co.

Pall bearers were: Lincoln Wood, Lee Brewerton, Clifton Nalder, Frank Shaw, Louis Fisher and Dean Rolfsen. Interment was in charge of Christensen Bros.

Left to mourn her passing are a son, Oehel of Raymond and two daughters, Mrs. Marion Tollestrup of Raymond and Mrs. Kenneth Donaldson of Lethbridge. We extend our sympathy to the children in their bereavement.

ARE YOU HELPING?

We have an industry in our midst that holds untold possibilities for all of us, particularly if we would all support it. We refer to the Cheese Factory, an egg grading station. There are of dollars every month paid out for produce, and what has been done yet is only a small fraction of what could be done if we would all show our community loyalty to the institution.

Organized as a co-operative, with the idea of returning the highest possible returns to the producer, managed by men who are themselves producers and are worth taking care of, and interested in the greatest returns for the producer, every one who sells a few eggs, or has a gallon of milk more a day than they need ought to market it through the Cheese Factory. Under present legislation when we sell milk, cream or eggs unless we are licensed to do so, we are breaking the law. When we sell these things to the Factory we are breaking no law, we receive the highest prices, we are not scabbing on somebody's else's rightful business and all is well with us.

We know of two people who are milking only one cow, supplying their needs in milk and selling the surplus to the Factory and getting about $16.00 per month from it. Are you doing this with your surplus milk? There is a great demand now for milk. All of ours is going to Lethbridge now and no cheese has been made for almost a month. If we were getting the surplus milk that could be sold, we could supply Lethbridge & still make cheese. Think this over carefully. Don't neglect your cow or cows. If they are worth keeping they are themselves producers and are worth taking care of, and

HENDERSON SECRETARIAL SCHOOL IN CALGARY ENLARGES AGAIN

The progress of the Henderson Secretarial School in Calgary is one of the most spectacular in the history of secretarial training in the Dominion. This school has grown from one classroom in June 1938 to two complete floors and an annex in 1943. It is now announced that the Henderson Secretarial School has taken over the entire building in which they have been located since their inception. Four complete floors are now devoted solely to classrooms, offices, reception rooms, first aid room, and recreation clubrooms. Students, parents, friends and business men are cordially invited to inspect these enlarged modern premises at any time. Courteous receptionists will gladly explain details of the Henderson method of instruction. Management:

right now that extra care and extra milk will be worth real money. Let's CO-OPERATE.

The high ideals inaugurated by the school's founder, the late C. J. Henderson, have been carried on by the management. Mr. Henderson was well known throughout the entire province as a leader, teacher, and friend. Since Mr. Henderson's passing the school has been in the very capable hands of his daughter, Mrs. Dorothy Henderson Wallace. She has seen the vision of her father develop into one of Canada's leading Educational Institutions.

Equipment—Faculty: The Henderson Secretarial School uses nothing but the very latest and finest of office equipment in their training. Their courses of study are being continually checked and revised to meet the constant changes of modern business. The faculty of twenty-five members have been specially selected for their ability to teach, as well as for their sympathetic understanding of each student's individual requirements.

Business Educators' Association The Business Educators' Association of Canada recently announced that Henderson's have been chosen as their Calgary member. Membership in this Association is by appointment only, and is comprised of the leading business training schools in Canada. The purpose of the Association is to increase and improve the graduation standards as well as the instructional methods of all the affiliated schools. Henderson's are proud of their membership in Congratulations to J. O. Hick. Along with being Bishop of the 1st Ward and Principal of the Public School and two or three other civic jobs, he sold more than $100,000 worth of life insurance, and as a result with his wife was a guest of the Sun Life Insurance Company for a few days this week in Calgary and Banff, besides receiving a bonus on his business. The busy man is the man who does things and again we say, congratulations Orvin.

Mr. and Mrs. S. B. Smith have received a letter from their son Thurston who has just had fifteen days leave in England. With his pal they bought a bunch of bananas and started for the Queen Elizabeth Children's hospital. After nearly having the bananas taken from them by force by fruit hungry people they made the hospital and distributed them to the inmates. Thurston said there were 50 children in the hospital that had never seen bananas before the boys took that bunch in.

WARNING COAL WILL BE SCARCE NEXT WINTER !!!

Prepare your home now for adequate warmth with smaller fuel consumption

TO SAVE COAL CHECK THESE POINTS

✓ HOW TO GET MORE HEAT

Pipes and furnaces must be clean, and grates in good order. If one or two rooms are hard to heat, you are wasting fuel. A minor adjustment can probably remedy this. Have a competent man check your heating system, and make necessary repairs. Insulate your furnace and pipes when necessary.

✓ HOW TO AVOID HEAT LOSSES

Storm windows and doors must fit snugly and be weatherstripped. Lack of storm windows can cause as much as 20% heat loss. Caulking should be done around windows, doors and in cracks in brick work (some hardware stores have caulking guns for rent). Broken glass should be replaced, and loose panes putted. Small expenditures on such work will save much fuel.

✓ HOW TO SAVE STILL MORE

You can save fuel and money by having your home properly insulated. It is a proven fact that in many homes lack of adequate insulation (including storm windows) results in unnecessary consumption of fuel—up to as much as 50%. Watch for later instructions on how to fire your furnace properly.

HAVE YOUR HOME INSPECTED FOR HEATING AND INSULATION DEFECTS

Get advice now! Skilled workmen and supplies are scarce. If you delay in getting your home ready for winter you may not be able to get the services you need.

Extension of Compulsory Employment Transfers.

To Employers and Employees:

THE 6th Compulsory Employment Transfer Order, issued under authority of National Selective Service Civilian Regulations, requires compliance not later than September 8th, 1943. After that date no employer may continue to employ any man covered by this Order, unless under special permit.

The first five Compulsory Transfer Orders listed occupations, and required compliance by all male employees in those occupations if (a) in an age and marital class designated under the Military Call-up, or if (b) 16, 17 or 18 years of age. The Sixth Order repeats all occupations given in the five earlier Orders, and requires all other men from 16 to 40 years of age (both ages inclusive) to become available for transfer to higher priority jobs, by registering at the nearest Employment and Selective Service Office.

Details of the Sixth Order were advertised in daily newspapers at the end of August. Copies of the Order may be secured from any Employment and Selective Service Office.

If in doubt as to the coverage of this Order, or the procedure under it, ask your nearest Employment and Selective Service Office.

All men, married or single, employed in designated occupations, aged 16 to 40, are now covered by the Orders. To avoid penalties, those who have not yet registered must do so by September 8th, 1943.

WEEKLY LETTER

BACK TO RUSSIAN THISTLE FOR FEED

A few years ago in many dry parts of Southern Alberta the old, winter feed available in sufficient amount to winter over Southern Alberta's cattle population was Russian thistles. In many places large stacks of this common weed were built in the fall and fed throughout the winter. And it was the Russian thistle that kept many ranchers and farmers in the cattle business. During the last four years the prairies and sloughs have yielded sufficient hay to build yearly feed reserves. Heavy feeding last winter cleaned out practically all of these feed reserves in the south and due to the very dry season there is practically no grass with which to make hay for this coming winter. A late crop of Russian thistle will help to relieve the seriousness of this situation.

The Russian thistle is not a true thistle but belongs to the goosefoot family. It gets the name thistle because of the way in which the leaves of mature plants terminate in sharp spiny tips. In young plants the leaves, although slender and pointed, are fleshy and readily eaten by cattle or sheep. When mature the plant becomes very coarse and is not relished. Analysis of Russian thistle show that young plants compare favorably with alfalfa. As the plants mature the protein content drops off rapidly. The laxative effect of thistle may be due to the high potash content.

It is important to cut Russian thistle before the plants become mature. Usually the plants turn black in the stack, but this does not impair the value of the feed. Sometimes salt is added as it is put into the stack.

Recent rains in the dry parts of Alberta will in all probability bring on a fresh crop of Russian thistles. In those areas in which feed is short farmers and ranchers would be well advised to take full advantage of any thistle growth that may take place. They may prevent losses during the coming winter.

Mr. and Mrs. Leo Brewerton were Calgary visitors the latter part of this week.

Mr. and Mrs. Geo. O'Brien and family of Kindersley, Sask., returned home Monday morning after spending a couple of weeks visiting here with friends and relatives.

Elder Richard R. Lyman of the Council of the Twelve was a bus passenger to Lethbridge Monday morning and went from there to Calgary and Edmonton to meet with the wards there.

HANDY TIME CLEAN POULTRY HOUSES

While the poultry is on the range is a good time for cleaning poultry buildings. When the poultry house is empty of birds the Dominion Department of Agriculture suggests emptying it of equipment. Everything that is not nailed down should be taken out in the sun and disinfected. Roosts, nests, and walls of the house will benefit by a thorough scraping and by scrubbing with a strong disinfectant. Roosts and dropping boards can be rid of mites by soaking in a mixture of coal oil and of used crankcase oil. The inside of the poultry house may then be given a coat of disinfectant whitewash. Some farmers have found it's a good idea to let the cleaned-up house stay idle for a time before letting the birds back.

Mrs. S. I. May spent the week-end with relatives and friends in Cardston. She returned home Tuesday morning.

ONLY IN ITS INFANCY

The co-operative movement is really in its infancy. It was only 99 years ago that the Rochdale pioneers set out to prove that the people could pool their own resources and their patronage and operate enterprises to protect themselves.

Some may think co-operation is slow but the movement has taken hold probably more rapidly than any other economic plan ever presented to mankind.

Since the movement started in England less than one hundred years ago, co-operation has spread to all parts of the world and has been accepted by millions of people as the way in which antiracism can be checked without setting up an oppressive governmental bureaucracy; the one way in which justice and well-being can be established for the full preservation of freedom and democracy.

Mr. and Mrs. Barker Selman are visiting here and in Mountain View for a week or two. Barker is stationed in Kingston, Ontario, and is just out of hospital following an appendicitis operation.

FARM FOR VICTORY BETTER LIVESTOCK IN ALBERTA

Alberta has held an enviable reputation for many years in the field of purebred livestock. The Calgary Bull sale is attended from as distant parts as Texas by eager buyers. Many herds and flocks in Alberta are known all over the continent. However, in the past this high standard among the purebred herds has not been reflected in the general run of farmers' livestock. Scrub bulls, boars and rams have been the usual, rather than the exception. The general run of farm livestock, especially cattle, has been poor. In recent years the whole picture is taking a change for the better. Alberta farmers have come to realize the advantage of high grade livestock and they also appreciate the fact that the easiest way to get into good livestock is by breeding to good sires. They have come to know that as far as the offspring is concerned "the sire is half the herd." Livestock men in their interest in improvement have looked to the Department of Agriculture for some guidance. The result has been a government policy of livestock improvement. Some outstanding sires have been purchased and imported to Alberta to head the herds at the Government farms. The offspring are offered for sale to breeders in the province. Besides this, policies aimed at improving swine, sheep and cattle have been inaugurated.

tle cannot help being struck by the presence of scrub bulls in many far mherds. And when I say "scrub" I mean just that. A few farmers are still using animals as herd sires that would not have made a good market steer, to say nothing of their inherent qualities which will be passed on to their offspring. I might add that some of these "scrubs" have papers. The Bull Exchange Policy aims at removing all scrub bulls from Alberta, and thereby raising the standard of the general run of our cattle to at least as enviable position as our leading purebreds. Any farmer owning a low quality bull may obtain through the Livestock Branch a purebred bull calf or yearling at 90p.c. of cost provided he sells his old bull. The Department ship the bull prepaid to the recipient. A trained cattlemen in touch with breeders all over the country, selects the bulls.

SALE OF WHIPPING CREAM FORBIDDEN

Farmers and pedlars who are selling whipping cream to consumers are violating an order of the W.P.T.B. which forbids the sale and purchase of or acquiring of cream containing more than 18 per cent butter fat.

A number of complaints have been received by the local office regarding this practise and the W.P.T.B. officers here have been instructed to make a survey of this condition.

The order reads as follows: No person shall on or after Jan. 1, 1943, except with the written authority of the food administrator, sell, or offer to sell or supply in any manner any cream containing more than 18 per cent butter fat, with a tolerance of one per cent being allowed, or more than two grades of any cream product; such grades to be such as are designated by the provincial authority appointed to regulate the sale and distribution of dairy products; provided, however, that the provisions of this section shall not apply to sales of cream by a primary producer thereof to a dairy, creamery, milk distributor or any industrial user of cream, or to sales of cream by one milk distributor or manufacturer to another milk distributor or manufacturer.

CURTALING WEED SEED DISTRIBUTION

Prevention of the spread of weed by farm machinery or live stock will require special attention during the next few weeks.

Since weed seeds can be very readily spread by machinery from field to field, and farm to farm, special care should be taken with the cleaning of all harvesting and threshing machinery and equipment before moving. Where combines are used weed seeds should be secured in tightly woven sacks in which they may be taken from the field and burned. All screenings accumulated
